The QS World University Rankings is one of the most prestigious university rankings in the world, as a result of its methodology and the volume of information processed to prepare the report.

Tec de Monterrey's strengths

This QS ranking takes 6 evaluation criteria into consideration:

- Academic Reputation (40%)
- Employer Reputation (10%)
- Citations per faculty (20%)
- Faculty/Student Ratio (20%)
- International Faculty (5%)

- International Students (5%)

According to Neil Hernández Gress, Director of Research at Tecnológico de Monterrey, the Tec's strongest metrics were Employer Reputation and Academic Reputation.

"These two strengths show that the Tec's faculty, researchers, and graduates have a great reputation and proven international recognition, as both metrics are based on surveys conducted by QS with academics and employers around the world," he said.

- Employer Reputation

In Employer Reputation, the Tec climbed 8 places, going from 51st place to 43rd. This metric continues to be the Tec's best indicator in this ranking.

It is based on the opinions held by employers on graduates from each university institution, and the analysis considered 99,000 responses from the annual QS survey, aimed at compiling the opinions of employers from around the world.

- Academic Reputation

In the category of Academic Reputation, the institution climbed 16 places, going from 180th to 164th place.

This metric is based on the perception held by academics of the universities that conduct research. The methodology considered 151,000 responses from academics around the world.
